

America's Cup Volleyball Net

The new QUED Volleyball Net boasts a patented design that is quickly becoming popular for its many features. The 1 piece construction is completely integrated; net body, top and bottom bands and steel cable, all permanently captured in the aluminum posts. This net delivers consistent rebound, is fully reversible, is extremely long lasting and easy to install.

Description

The one piece design with uniform net tension yields a consistent rebound set making this volleyball net a fast and efficient installation. The net construction is all durable materials tested to withstand extreme tension load. For maximum performance look to Qued's America's Cup volleyball standards.
